- Flute Silver has a specific grain direction as indicated by arrows printed on the protective film. When fabricating, adjacent panels must be aligned so that the arrows run in the same direction.
Aluminium Forté has a superior scratch resistance to other metallic laminates but is still recommended for vertical use.
Refer to postforming conditions as covered by Laminex Redback technical data detailed in The Laminex Product Catalogue.
○ Carbon Crush and Snow Crush are not recommended for horizontal application.
All Innovations® laminates are suitable for vertical use only, with the exceptions of Brushed Stainless Steel and Electro Series. Innovations designs have been manufactured for optimum decorative effect and have minimal surface protection. The majority of the vertical grades of Innovations laminates have low resistance to wear, scratch and impact. The non-metallic laminates have a medium resistance to impact. Appropriate care must be exercised in the application and use of these products.
Please note: It is important to view a larger sample for the full pattern effect prior to ordering.
